International Conference on

SMART & SUSTAINABLE STEEL PRODUCTION:
DRIVING PROCESS EXCELLENCE, INNOVATION & RAW MATERIAL SECURITY

IIM Metallurgy Materials Engineering
THE INDIAN INSTITUTE OF METALS
KOLKATA CHAPTER

Preamble

The steel industry is undergoing a profound transformation as it strives to meet the growing demand for high-quality steel while addressing the challenges of sustainability, resource security, and global competitiveness. In an era marked by rapid technological advancements, decarbonization initiatives, and supply chain uncertainties, the future of steel production depends on innovative processes, energy efficient operation, responsible resource management, digital transformation and the integration of advanced manufacturing with sustainable operations.

Indian Institute of Metals (IIM), Kolkata Chapter serves as a platform for exchange of knowledge, experience & innovative ideas on contemporary issues, emerging trends in Metals & Materials sector. As a part of its continuing endeavour to promote professional interaction & knowledge sharing, the IIM, Kolkata chapter is organising a seminar on the theme: "Smart & Sustainable Steel production: Driving Process excellence, Innovation & Raw material security"

Together, let us explore innovative pathways to drive the steel industry towards greater efficiency, resilience, competitiveness, and long-term sustainable growth. The seminar will bring together industry leaders, academicians, researchers, technology providers, policymakers and other stakeholders to deliberate on emerging trends, technological advancements and best practices shaping the future of smart and sustainable steel production. The discussions will focus on process excellence, technological innovations for enhanced productivity, sustainable manufacturing practices, decarbonization strategies, circular economy initiatives, digitization and ensuring long-term raw material security through efficient utilization, recycling, strategic sourcing, and resilient supply chains to provide a valuable platform for knowledge sharing, collaboration, and the exchange of innovative ideas.

The key focus area will include:

- Process excellence
- Innovation & Digitization
- Sustainability & Decarbonization
- Resource efficiency & Circular economy
- Raw material security & Supply chain resilience

Location and Logistics

Kolkata is a well-connected metropolitan city with robust road, rail, and air networks, making travel convenient from all parts of India and abroad. The conference venue, Park Hotel, Kolkata, is strategically located near the Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose International Airport, and is easily accessible from major railway stations such as Howrah and Sealdah.

The city offers a wide range of accommodation options, from budget hotels to premium star-rated properties, along with abundant local transport facilities. Kolkata also boasts numerous cultural and historical attractions, making it an engaging destination for visitors.

The Conference Organizing Committee will be pleased to assist with accommodation arrangements in nearby star hotels and local travel logistics, subject to availability and advance intimation. Support will be provided on request and on payment basis, so participants are encouraged to inform the committee well in advance to ensure smooth coordination.

Engage & Empower: Sponsorship and Delegate Involvement

As part of the Indian Institute of Metals – Kolkata Chapter, we invite organizations and institutions to support this International Conference on Smart & Sustainable Steel Production: Driving process excellence, innovation & raw material security through sponsorship and delegate nominations.

Sponsorship Benefits

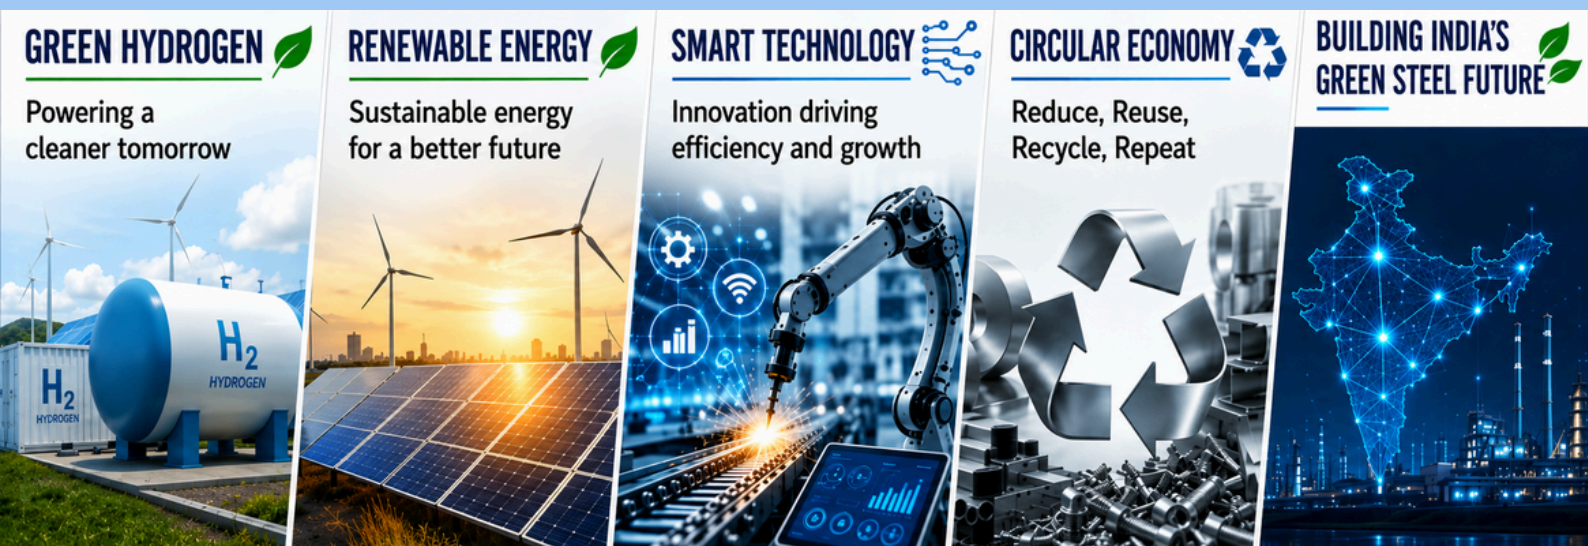

As part of the Indian Institute of Metals – Kolkata Chapter, this conference offers attractive sponsorship packages with exclusive benefits and visibility.

Delegate Benefits

- Full access to technical sessions and keynote lectures
- Networking with leading experts and industry leaders
- Conference kit and official materials & participation certificate
- Gourmet delights available throughout the event
